Occupational Therapy***

Welcome!

My name is Jessica L. Slater, MOTR/L. I received my bachelor's degree (Bachelor's of Health Science) from Baker College in Flint, Michigan. I obtained my Master's of Occupational Therapy in June 2009 from Baker College Center for Graduate Studies in Flint, MI. I have had the pleasure of working with both pediatric and adult patients. I have experience working with children with autism, Down Syndrome, cerebral palsy, multiple dystrophy, encephalopathy, visual perceptual deficits, developmental delays, and sensory disorders. I have worked with individuals who have deficits in completing activities of daily living independently after sustaining a stroke, spinal cord injury, traumatic brain injury, dementia and physical/orthopedic injuries.

I currently work at two local charter schools, with home schooled children, and home care. I enjoy working with pediatrics both in the school system and in outpatient clinic settings. I am a wife and a mother of four wonderful children (2 boys, 2 girls). My youngest daughter has Angelman Syndrome, which is a rare chromosomal disorder. Sensory Integration treatment has played a huge part of her therapy throughout the years. I believe in it because I have seen firsthand how it can improve the lives of individuals and their families!
